Smith & Herring.

The W C T U Library is open every Saturday from 3 to 4 o'clock. Member ship $1.00 a year.

The L & N will run another $1.75 excursion to Cincinnati Sunday and a big crowd will go down.

The "Blue Front" store room was sold Monday by Master Commissioner Rothwell, J. I. Hamilton becoming the purchaser at $3,410.

Circuit Clerk Hamilton sold his residence on Hill street, to Ross Bastin, price $2,000. Mr. Hamilton will buy elsewhere in the city.

The local political pot continues to boil. Read our list of candidates' announcements and see who they are who want you to help them. They're all good people, well-qualified for the places sought.

A number of sidewalkers in the city are becoming very rough and uneven. This is a great nuisance, and then, too, it will eventually make the girls bow-legged. How about this latter important matter, Mayor Logan?

The ladies of the W C T U will have an exchange next Saturday the 29th in Stormes store room. They will also serve ice cream and cake at 15cts a saucer with a slice of cake. Doors open at 2 p.m., and the money is to buy books for the Library.

No Preaching Sunday.

Br. Tinder writes The Record, from Cynthiana, that he will be unable to fill his pulpit at local Christian church next Sunday, as the minister for whom he is holding a meeting has been called away by serious illness of his wife's father.

Floyd's Philosophy.

"Sometimes I think I'd about as soon be a hog as a human," said John Floyd, of color, yesterday, as he paid a dollar poll tax on a hound pup, "kase a hog is never in hot water but once, and that's after he's dead, wharas de po culled man is in hot water at least half his natchel lifetime."

We Must Keep Him.

Last Sunday morning, when the heat was almost unbearable, a certain Lancaster minister preached for not more than fifteen or twenty minutes. As the Lancaster people are determined to keep this gentleman, the Record will not give his name, because we know that he will be eagerly sought after by other towns.

Earn Your Own Wages.

Harrodsburg Herald:—If a minister can stand up in a stiff collar and a frock coat and preach for an hour in this boiling August weather, it looks like as if other men might saunter in and listen to him—if provided with cool clothing and a big fan. Oh, he is paid to preach, you say. Well, it may be news to you, but you are paid to listen to him—paid by the moral and civilizing influences which would not exist if churches were wiped off the earth. Turn out next Sunday and earn your wages.

They're Coming Back.

Quite a number of the colored men who went to Cincinnati and Indianapolis and suburbs of those cities are returning to their old homes, having found that they can make and save more right here than in the big cities. While they got bigger salaries, it is true, yet the expense of living was also higher, and they were compelled to put in more hours and at harder labor. Each excursion brings back some of them, and, as cold weather approaches more will join in the homeward march. There were many good negroes who left here, and also some very undesirable ones. If the good will return and the trifling ones remain, Lancaster will be largely the winner.

Fine Times At Estill.

The Eight District Publishers' League will hold its quarterly meeting on Sept 4th, this time at Estill Springs. The League has been so successful in its undertakings that it has attracted attention of newspaper men all over the state. It is working wonders for the good of the public and members. The Estill Springs meeting will be attended by a great many prominent newspaper men from over the state who are not members. A most delightful and interesting program is being arranged for both the business and the social sessions. A feature of the occasion will be the attendance by a very large number of ladies, they having been especially invited.

Fish All Gone.

A local Nimrod tells The Central Record that there simply are no fish in Dix river, the giners and dynamiters having completely ruined the stream.

There is no finer fish stream anywhere, and the fact that a lot of law-breakers have been allowed to commit this crime is a shame and disgrace to a community supposed to have the least respect for law and order.

GEORGE D. POTTS DEAD.
A Well-Known Lancaster Boy Dies
in Maryland. Son of Mrs.
Eugenio D. Potts.

Mr George D Potts, the only son of Mrs Eugenia Dunlap Potts, died Thursday afternoon at Frederick, Md., after an illness of about three weeks. The interment took place in the Potts' family lot in Frederick. Mr Potts is survived by his wife and one son, George Murdock Potts. He was a nephew of Mrs George Denny and Mr Wood G Dunlap, of Lexington and Rev George W Dunlap, of Las Cruces, N. M. George Dunlap Potts was born in Montgomery, Ala., on November 24, 1864. His father, Dr Richard M Potts was a surgeon in the United States Army before the war, and was a personal friend of General U S Grant. When war was declared Dr Potts resigned his commission and immediately joined the Confederate army and was given the rank of Major and was in charge of General Polk's division until the surrender at Appomattox. He died in Memphis, Tenn., on July 15, 1866, aged 35 years, and was buried in Frederick, Md., in the family lot. The childhood and early youth of George D Potts were spent at his grandfather Dunlap's home in Lancaster, Ky., but each year he paid a visit of some months to his father's family in Maryland. After finishing the course at the schools in Lancaster his education was completed at Alexandria, Va. And his mother then moved to Chicago where Mr Potts was in the employ of N W Harris & Co's banking house. After two years' stay they moved to New York.

A few years later Mr Potts was sent to Cincinnati in the employ of the Winifred Coal Co. While there he met and married Miss Rose Frances Greenan on December 12, 1893. A year later he was made manager of the Burnet House, which position he held for eight years and then leased the Stanton House at Chattanooga where he lived for three years. His health became impaired from the confinement and he went back to New York. Four years ago he was made Cashier and Auditor of the St Louis branch of the Columbia National Life Insurance Co., of Boston, Mass., which position he held at the time of his death.

He possessed a bright, cheerful, sunny disposition, made friends in every walk of life, climbed no hills, and endeared himself to everyone with whom he came in contact. His ancestors on the Potts side came from England and settled in Hagerstown and Frederick, Md., and they have no connections outside of the State. Richard Potts, the elder, was an aide to Governor Thomas Johnston in 1776, and afterward clerk of the Frederick County Court, a member of the Maryland House of Delegates and the Continental Congress. States Attorney of Washington and Montgomery counties, States Senator U S District Attorney for Maryland, Chief Justice of the Fifth District of Maryland and members of the Court of Appeals. Major Samuel Ringgold, who fell at Beaufort, Va., and Commodore Cadwallader Ringgold, of U S Navy, were grand uncles of distinction. The ancestors of Mr Potts on his mother's side trace back to General William Jennings, Gen William Dunlap and Col William Jennings, who fought in the Revolutionary War. Mr Potts' grandfather, George W Dunlap, was a lawyer of distinguished ability, a member of the Legislature from Garrard county, member of the Border State convention that voted for men and money put a stop to the Civil War, and member of Congress from his district.

Mrs Eugenia Dunlap Potts left a sick bed to go to her son as soon as she was notified of his illness. In her enfeebled condition the shock proved too much for her and she is now in the hospital at Frederick, but last reports from her bedside were encouraging and her many friends hope to see her home again in a short time. All feel the deepest sympathy for her in this loss of her only child; her devotion, love and thought for whom was the supreme element in her life.

Fish All Gone.

A local Nimrod tells The Central Record that there simply are no fish in Dix river, the giners and dynamiters having completely ruined the stream. There is no finer fish stream anywhere, and the fact that a lot of law-breakers have been allowed to commit this crime is a shame and disgrace to a community supposed to have the least respect for law and order.

Try It, and See.

There is no sport that can engage the attention of men that has so few of the objectionable elements as fishing. It is a quiet and unobtrusive pastime and is not so violent in nature as hunting. Besides there is infinitely less cruelty in it than any other sports that includes the taking of life. It is the kind of sport that its deciples can have time to ruminant on the good and bad things of the world and also to take in all the salient beauties of the forest, lake and stream between bites. The hunter must tramp about and be ever on the alert in order to sight the game. Tramping all day and an empty game bag is not conducive to the best temper in the world. But in fishing suppose there are but few catches there yet remains the satisfaction that one is not exhausted with the sport. The fisherman becomes a philosopher and a person of kindly disposition simply from the sport he follows. Patience is cultivated and evil thoughts do not enter his mind.

And then the reminiscences of the fisherman. They run back to the days of pinhooks and any sort of pole and line, back along the creek bank under the willows to the spot where the first fish was landed. True it may have been the smallest sunfish in the creek or a silverside sparkling in the sunshine of an ideal summer day or perhaps only a lowly club. But it was a fish and the first that you ever caught and all fish since then, whether the gamey bass or a royal trout, never quite measure up to the fish of the bare-foot boy down by the creek in that far off day when you first went fishing.

A man, or woman for that matter, who delighted to cast a bait or whip a streamer, who can take chances for a bite and come home with either a full or empty basket, will have had the day of sport that has cleaned the cobwebs from a tired brain and pushed the wrinkles from weary eyes. Just go fishing once, if you have never been, and see what satisfaction comes from getting away from the crowd. The fact that one must get into quiet nooks and away from the noise to fish is something gained already.

Fish Killed.

At the recent big fire near Midway at which forty-seven thousand barrels of whiskey were burned, a tributary of South Elkhorn creek was filled with the burning whiskey, which set the creek on fire for miles. In consequence of the burned whisky, the fish in South Elkhorn have been killed by thousands and fishermen fear that fishing there, which is one of the best streams in the State, has been ruined.

BLUE-GRASS FARM FOR SALE.

The undersigned State Bank & Trust Company of Richmond, Ky., as executors of the will of the late W. J. Gillispie, deceased, will on Thursday at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m.,

September 10th, 1908

offer for sale to the highest and best bidder the splendid Blue Grass Farm of said Gillispie located near Lowell in Garrard County Ky., first in parcels and then as a whole and in the following order, viz:

1. Tract No 1 known as the home portion containing 225 acres, more or less, and upon which is located the residence, and which is situated on the south side of the turnpike running to Lowell, Ky., and on the East side of what was formerly an old dirt road.

2. Tract No 2 being the remainder of said farm, lying on the South side of said turnpike road and West of said former dirt road, containing 225 acres, more or less.

3. Tract No 3 contains 175 acres, more or less, and being on the North side of said turnpike, and all of which tract is in grass.

Said tracts Nos 1 and 2 will then be offered for sale together and then the entire farm, subject to the above tracts, and the same will be offered for sale as a whole, and the farm will be sold either in parcels or as a whole, and in the manner realizing the most money. Sale will be by the acre.

Said farm will be surveyed and platted before the sale, and copies may be found for the inspection of those who may be interested, at Peoples Bank at Paint Lick, Ky., and the State Bank & Trust Company of Richmond, Ky.

Said farm is a well improved, well watered Blue Grass farm, with a fine residence and barn and has thereon a spacious large residence containing eight (8) rooms, an excellent barn and all necessary out buildings including tenant houses. It is in a most desirable neighborhood, being two miles from Lowell Station, on the L. & N. Railroad and near churches and schools. It is about eight miles from Lancaster, Ky.

TERMS.

One third (1/3) of the purchase money will be due and payable January the 1st, 1909, when possession will be given and deed recited and the balance in two equal installments will be due in one and two years from January the 1st, 1909. The purchaser will be required to execute notes with good security, to bear interest from January 1st, 1909 until paid. A lien will be retained in deed for the unpaid purchase money.

There are three things that must be considered by the masses during a campaign. There is the boss, who attempts to deliver the vote of the party to which he pretends allegiance and which he serves when it suits his selfish interests. Then the party itself, which pretends to be the embodiment of the vital principles that stand for the government. And lastly the people, which means the great masses that have nothing to gain save in having the best possible administration of public affairs. It is within the power of the people to control both the boss and the political parties and force them to do the bidding of the masses. The great trouble arises from the fact that too many voters consider the party the main thing, when as a matter of fact, it is only a means to an end. The abuses that creep into public affairs are the result of indifference on the part of the people. The parties and the bosses can go no further than the people permit. If the public is indifferent, then, of course, the selfish will proceed to grow fat at the expense of the masses.

And now comes the information that President Roosevelt has appointed a commission to devise means for the betterment of the life of the American farmer. This may be all right but when one takes a glance at the condition of the farmer, with his good roads, free daily mail, up-to-date telephone service, automobiles, modern machinery, bumper crops and big bank accounts and fat pocketbooks, one wonders where that commission will commence to better conditions. There are a whole lot of fellows in the cities and towns who have a sneaking idea that the farmer lives mighty near the top of the heap. And he has a right to live there, with what he has produced by his own efforts and without the fostering care of a protective tariff and a lot of special legislation. The farmer comes mighty near being the only independent personage in the world. All hail the farmer, may his tribute increase.

A Chicago couple has given it out that they are broken hearted over the death of a bull terrier. Perhaps this couple is entitled to some sympathy, but there is no occasion to have fits over the predicament. Perhaps if the bereaved ones would look about they could find ample opportunity to extend help to some hapless human being and thus assuage their grief in doing a bit of real good. Persons who can become attached to a dog would no doubt find it difficult to transfer their affections to some bright child in need of a home. The experiment is worth a trial at least.

Unworthy candidates are found from time to time on the ticket of one or both of the parties. In such an event the duty of the patriotic citizen is plain. Just scratch the fellow who should not hold office. It will prove a wholesome lesson to the party managers and be a distinct gain to the public service.

The metropolitan press is still engaged in the diverting pastime of discussing the acceptance speeches of Taft and Bryan. The country press finished that job long ago and is now ready for the real issues of the campaign. This indicates that the city papers are somewhat slow in keeping up with the procession.

Apple pie, fried chicken, watermelons, corn on the cob and a whole lot of other good things. Who could be a consistent pessimist under such condition and midst such surroundings? No one save the fellow with ingrowing dyspepsia or, in case of corn on the cob, the person with false teeth?

Down in a Southern city, the doctors absolutely refuse treatment to anyone who does not pay promptly. Now comes the startling information that there has been a marked decrease in the death rate since the propaganda of no pay, no pills was published.

The sheath gown has afforded a lot of near actresses the opportunity to score a point and get a lot of free advertising. Bloomers, perhaps, would have revealed as much, but would not have created as much interest in the public eye.

Some one suggests that women would be more effective in throwing if they would reverse present methods and aim at the things they do not want to hit. By this plan they would be enabled to hit the things they desire to exterminate.

John Cobb, over in Illinois, has married Mary Korn. Funny how the eternal fitness of things will adjust themselves. Illinois is a great agricultural state and corn is the principal product.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols, of Oakland, Ind. Ter. Private Conn has an excellent record as a soldier. He is a young man and has the highest recommendations from his officers for the constabulary appointment. He has been ordered to report to the commandant of the Constabulary school for instruction before assigned to duty in the provinces."

Rich in greenery, consisting of welcome palms and beautiful plants. The bride is a tall, dignified young woman, with the attractions of blonde in coloring and type. She wore her elegant bridal toilet of white lace and diamonds. She was introduced by the hostess, with a pleasing charm of manner. Mrs West wore a handsome gown of black net garnished with lace. The scene was beautified by a large number of charming aids. They were Mrs R L Elkin, who wore blue and white crepe de chine; Mrs W T West, black lace over silk; Mrs R L Embry, white lace over blue silk; Misses Martha and Helen Gill, Burrows and Lena Riggs were beautifully gowned in white. Tempting refreshments were served. Fifty guests were invited. It was a beautiful affair, and the surroundings the acme of luxury.

Black Note of Calcutta.
"The Black Hole of Calcutta" was a dark, practically airless prison cell some 18 feet square, into which, in the year 1756, the human brute, Suraj Dowlah, thrust 147 British prisoners. In the morning when the cell door was opened only 23 out of the 147 were found to be alive.—New York American.

Saturday evening Aug 15th, the spirit of Evert Kennedy, the little four weeks old son of Mr and Mrs Ollie Tapp, of Paris, took its flight to a better and brighter world. Funeral services were conducted by Rev Geo Clark at their residence. The remains were brought and laid to rest in the Lancaster Cemetery.

The Blood-Stained Equator.
Human life, I have reason to know, is held cheap at Equatorville, and the place is stained with many crimes. In fact, the whole equator is, throughout its 26,000 miles, a line of ignorance, savagery, and blood. It is a black line which civilization ought to paint white.—The Strand Magazine.

Why James Lee Got Well.
Everybody in Zanesville, O., knows Mrs Mary Lee, of Rural Route 8. She writes: "My husband, James Lee, firmly believes he owes his life to the use of Dr King's New Discovery. His lungs were so severely affected that consumption seemed inevitable, when a friend recommended New Discovery. We tried it and its use has restored him to perfect health." Dr King's New Discovery is the King of throat and lung remedies. For cough and colds it has no equal. The first dose gives relief. Try it. Tax Notice.

Taxes under the statute are due the 15th day of March each year. A great many of the taxpayers of Garrard county have heretofore delayed the payment of their taxes until Nov. 1, but under the new revenue laws all taxes not paid by Oct. 1, become delinquent, and are so reported to the county clerk at the cost of the tax pay also 6 per cent. Don't fall behind and pay your taxes at once and thereby save cost and penalties.

G. A. Arnold,
Sheriff of Garrard.

Yield of a Good Beef Steer.

A good steer properly and at the same time profitably cut up will yield the following percentages of dressed weight, given in round numbers so as to be more easily memorized: Loins, 15 per cent.; ribs, 10 per cent.; rounds, 21 per cent.; chuck, 19 per cent.; rounds, 21 per cent.; chuck, 19 per cent.; plates, 16 per cent.; flanks, 4 per cent.; shanks, 7 per cent.; tallow, 3 per cent.; kidneys, 25 per cent.; sausage meat, 1 per cent.; shank meat, 1.50 per cent.; tankage, 25 per cent.; loss in cutting, 25 per cent.—National Provisioner.

We've got a Telephone.

We've got a telephone at last, and a wife is quite content. She is a good wife in so fast.

She hasn't spent cent for literature of any kind—

She hears the neighbors tell so much of things that are going on.

She listens for that bell, And when some one begins to talk, She takes receiver down,

And then she knows how everything Is going on in town.

I'd like to use the phone sometimes And get the price of grain, And call the Weather Bureau up, And learn when it will rain.

But all the women on our line Are drawing in their hats, And then I say a word or two And wish that telephone Was anywhere but in my house, Or I'd be alone alone.
